

Risk Management — Synthetic Test Document

Risk management is the structured process of identifying, assessing, treating, and monitoring risks that may affect an organization or an individual.

Common risk-management activities include risk identification, risk assessment, selection of controls or mitigation measures, monitoring, and periodic review.

This document is synthetic test content created for the Document Intelligence Copilot demo and is not an official insurance or regulatory document.